THE RECORD IS THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY OF CHAVES AND THE CITY OF ROSWELL.

All advertisements to insure insertion in the same day's issue of The Record should be in the printers' hands before eleven o'clock in the morning. Orders for taking out any standing ad. should also be in the office by eleven o'clock to prevent its being run that day.

"Bull" Andrews appears to have about reached the end of his rope, and is winding it up closer and closer to the post where with his nose to the ground he can only bawl and eat dirt.

As evidence that no graft exists in the police department of Roswell, the city is never charged with fees by City Marshal Rascoe or his assistants for making arrests, except in cases where convictions are secured. This frees the department from any suspicion of making arrests merely to get the fees.

The "lost motion" in our legislative machinery is something appalling. One instance in point may be cited: Congressman Jack Beall is authority for the statement that bills admitting New Mexico to statehood have been considered in 22 congresses, and have actually passed the senate or the house 17 times, and both senate and house at least twice. The game of politics just now seems a time-killing affair. Has Mother Columbia grown so stilly that she should abhor a large family of children?—Texas Farm and Ranch.

The trouble is about to begin at Santa Fe. Governor Hagerman evidently means business, and is not disposed to wait until June first for Attorney General Prichard to vacate. The Governor has telegraphed Capt. W. C. Reid, of Roswell, to come to Santa Fe by the first of April prepared to take charge of the attorney general's office. Capt. Reid will leave Friday by the automobile route for the capital, and if there is a fight he is ready to stand by the Governor to the last ditch. It is possible, however, that Mr. Prichard will yield without further contest when he realizes that the Governor means business.

WHO IS MR. BELL?

R. D. Bell, the Democratic candidate for alderman from the Fourth ward, was born in Arkansas in 1863, and has always been a Democrat. His first vote was cast for Grover Cleveland. He moved with his parents to Texas when nine years of age, and grew to manhood in the Lone Star state. He lived in Austin for 19 years, and for over fifteen years was connected with the city government of Austin, being thirteen years on the police force and serving as sanitary officer for two years.

Mr. Bell came to Roswell four years ago for the benefit of his wife's health, and within three months after coming here he purchased a home in the city. He now owns other property and has some money loaned. When he first came here, he was induced to go in with his brother at the Green Front saloon until he could find some better means of making a living. He knew little about either gambling or the saloon business, except from outside observation as a policeman, and he never intended to follow the business permanently.

Since last Christmas he has had no connection whatever with the business, and as Dr. R. L. Bradley stated in the meeting at the court house last night, has been under a physician's care part of the time. Having been engaged in the livery business for a time at Austin, he has planned for some time to go into that or some other legitimate business here, but owing to an abscess in his side, he has been unable to do any active work for several months. About one hundred Democrats at the meeting last night voted unanimously to join in working among the brethren of the Fourth ward to the end that Mr. Bell should receive the full vote of his party for alderman. He declares himself standing squarely upon the Democratic platform, and it is believed that his long connection with the city government of Austin should give him experience of much value as a councilman.

MIKE BURNS—THE MAN.

In the First Ward the city Democrats have a candidate for alderman who is a credit to the town's official board in the person of M. D. Burns. He is now holding the same office and has been placed in nomination to succeed himself after having given two years of splendid service that deserves recognition in the form of a re-election.

Mike Burns, as he is familiarly known by almost every citizen in town was born in Clarion, Iowa. He lived in the town of his birth until 25 years ago and then moved to various other points in that state, finally leaving for the west, "to grow up with the country." First he went to Colorado, but soon after discovered that it was the southwest that had the proper attractions. He went to Amarillo and there took a position with the Santa Fe railroad, first as cashier and afterwards as agent. The company recognized in him a good man and after one year sent to fill the position of agent at Carlsbad. He remained there just eight months and was returned to Amarillo for another six months, at the end of which time he was sent to Roswell as agent. That was four years and a half ago, and he has been here ever since. He has seen seven years of service in the employ of the Santa Fe and in him they have a trusted and respected employee.

Although he was born and reared in the Republican Iowa, Mike Burns is a Democrat of the old school. The trials of the Democrats in that country are often more strenuous than in the states where the success of the Democracy is hardly ever opposed, and there some of the best timber is sometimes grown. It was so in the case of Mike Burns. He has always been a Democrat and always will. The only office Mr. Burns ever held was the one he is filling so well at present. He ought to be re-elected, and no doubt will.

"BULL" ANDREWS' FALL.

From Kansas City Star.

The passing of "Bull" Andrews, New Mexico's delegate, is accentuated by the fact that he no longer is admitted to the councils of the House leaders on the statehood situation. In the last Congress, Andrews was active in urging statehood for New Mexico and his advice was accepted as valuable. He was not then a member of the House but the leaders called him into their conferences. Before he went to New Mexico he was the right hand man of the late M. S. Quay and powerful in the politics of Pennsylvania.

The failure of the Enterprise National Bank of Pittsburg brought his downfall. That bank was used to the limit by Pennsylvania machine politicians and Andrews had large deal-

Z. F. Deen for Assessor.

In today's issue appears the signed announcement of Z. F. Deen as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for county assessor. This announcement will be received with pleasure by Mr. Deen's many friends for there are many who would like to see him have the place.

Mr. Deen is a Democrat from Jackson parish, Louisiana, where he was born forty-four years ago. At the age of nine he went to Belton, Texas and remained there until twenty-three, when he moved to Roswell, and for twenty-one years has been a resident of Chaves county, having lived during all those years as a splendid gentleman and esteemed citizen. For fifteen years he rode the range as a "cow-puncher," part of the time with his own cattle and part as an employe of cow men. For six years until a short time ago, he ran a livery stable in Roswell, but recently sold out his interests in that line and is now in splendid circumstances to take care of the duties of the office he seeks.

All his life, Mr. Deen has been a Democrat. He cast his first vote in Texas in the fall of 1884, just before coming to Roswell, for Grover Cleveland. Since then he has had no chance to vote for president, being a resident of a territory, but his sympathies and votes in territorial, county and city contests have always been with the Democrats. He is a Democrat of the right kind, too, for he believes that when a Democrat is defeated for nomination, it becomes his duty more than ever to work for the election of the ticket. Mr. Deen has never held a public office. Therefore he can ask this preferment from his party with good grace.

Mr. Deen is a conscientious man of good judgment and is well experienced in affairs that come up in the office he seeks. In other words, he is well qualified for the place. He is a substantial citizen in every respect, and has many friends. If nominated, he will be an easy winner.
